Wellness COLLOIDAL SILVER™

A Precious Resource

Silver has been a potent resource for centuries. This precious mineral was highly valued in ancient China and was a staple in the Indian Ayurvedic system. Practitioners in nineteenth century America and Europe revived its use with the invention of colloidal silver - fine silver particles suspended in water. However, the high price and poor quality of the colloidal silver products available at the time led to a decline in its popularity.

What Is Colloidal Silver?

Silver is a trace mineral; it is present in the body in very minute amounts. People used to get trace minerals from eating plants grown in nutrient-rich soil. In modern times, with the advent of chemical fertilizers, many trace minerals have been depleted from the foods we eat. Silver is now present only in small amounts in the soil.

Over the generations, attempts have been made to put silver into a usable form for supplementation. Colloidal silver, the suspension of fine silver particles in water, was invented in the nineteenth century, but its quality was poor.

Products of Advanced Technology

Today, advanced technology has made possible the production of high-quality colloidal silver. Source Naturals, one of the first companies to introduce colloidal silver to the marketplace, has taken advantage of this technological breakthrough.

Source Naturals offers two potencies of colloidal silver in a variety of forms. Both the 10 parts per million (ppm) and the 30 ppm potency are produced using a unique electrical-chemical process that charges the silver particles, allowing them to be suspended in the solution of deionized water. Both potencies offer homogeneity, minute particle size and stability of the silver particles. No animal proteins or artificial additives are used.

A Wealth of WELLNESS COLLOIDAL SILVER Products

Source Naturals WELLNESS COLLOIDAL SILVER comes in several forms to suit your needs.

WELLNESS COLLOIDAL SILVER™, Source Naturals' higher-potency product, is concentrated to 30 ppm without compromising the stability of the colloid. It is available in liquid form in 2, 4 and 8 fl oz bottles. To maintain "friendly flora" while taking WELLNESS COLLOIDAL SILVER, it is recommended that you use Source Naturals LIFE FLORA™.
